

Global Jars: Asian Containers as (Trans)Cultural Enclosures

Tuesday April 11, 2017, 13:00-18:00
Matthias de Vrieshof 3, Room 104 (Verbarium), Leiden University

Jointly organized by Anne Gerritsen (Leiden University & University of Warwick) and Anna Grasskamp (Hong Kong Baptist University & International Institute of Asian Studies)

13:00-13:05 Introduction by Anne Gerritsen (Leiden University & University of Warwick)

13:05-13:35 Eva Ströber (former curator, Keramiekmuseum Princessehof),
The Collection of Jars at the Princessehof Museum, and the Various Uses of Jars in Trade and Magic 13:35-13:45 Pauline Lunsingh Scheurleer (former curator, Rijksmuseum),

Imported Pots in Ancient Java. A few examples

13:45-13:50 Response by Jiří Jákl (University of Queensland & International Institute for Asian Studies)

13:50-14:00 Q&A

14:00-14:30 John Johnston (Hong Kong Baptist University),
Classification and Uses of Vietnamese Ceramic Jarlets

14:30-14:35 Response by William Southworth (Rijksmuseum)

14:35-14:45 Q&A

14:45-15:00 Coffee break

- 15:00-15:30 Anne Gerritsen (Leiden University & University of Warwick),
A Cizhou jar for storing food?
- 15:30-15:35 Response by Fan Lin (Leiden University)
- 15:35-15:45 Q&A
-
- 15:45-16:15 Alexandra van Dongen (Museum Boijmans Van Beuningen),
Jan van Eyck's Syrian Jar
- 16:15-16:20 Response by Irene Cieraad (Delft University of Technology)
- 16:20-16:30 Q&A
-
- 16:30-17:00 Wu Wen-ting (Pablo de Olavide University, Seville),
"Jiangjun Guan" and its trajectory in the global history (late 17th-19th century)
- 17:00-17:05 Response by Eline van den Berg (Keramiekmuseum Princessehof)
- 17:05-17:15 Q&A
-
- 17:15-17:30 Concluding remarks by Anna Grasskamp (Hong Kong Baptist University & International Institute of Asian Studies)
-
- 17:30-18:00 Final Discussion

All are welcome! Please register at register@sharedtaste.nl

The event is generously sponsored by Shared Taste and International Institute for Asian Studies (IIAS)

